

QHSE VISION

QHSE VISION

SAFETY FIRST, EXCELLENCE ALWAYS

C&J Energy Services is recognized as a leader in quality, health, safety and environmental (QHSE) performance. Ensuring the safety of our employees, while protecting the communities in which we live and work, is absolutely our top priority. We operate with the conviction that all incidents are preventable. Our safety record and our ongoing quality and HSE initiatives mean our customers can feel confident in the integrity of our operations.

The long-term success of our company depends on our ability to continually improve the quality of our products and services while protecting people, the environment and the communities in which we operate.

Our procedures and processes are designed and managed with the strictest adherence to quality, health, safety and environmental standards and protocols. We strive to meet or exceed all regulations and guidelines. C&J has also developed its own QHSE management system to help ensure compliance with our procedures and processes and to drive continuous improvement.

We strive to be:

- Free of incidents
- Free of personal injury
- Free of adverse environmental and community impact

We are committed to:

- Training and holding every employee accountable for working safely in an environmentally responsible manner
- Providing a secure workplace for every employee
- Complying with all applicable national, state and local QHSE regulations, customer QHSE practices and procedures and C&J's management system
- Continuously improving our QHSE performance
